HIGHWAY CRASH IS FATAL TO COASTER

Jack Johnson Run Down While Returning Home Last Tuesday Night

DRIVER RELEASED

Coroner's Jury Says Accident Unavoidable; Victim On Wrong Side of Road

Deputy Coroner Broaddus was called to Fort Bragg Wednesday to investigate the death of Jack Johnson, 48, a coast laorer, who was killed Tuesday night when struck by a truck driven by Romeo Giacomini of Manchester. The jury empanelled returned a verdict of death by unavoidable automobile accident.

Johnson, who lived about three miles east of Fort Bragg, was killed at about 7:30 at a turn in the road just north of his home. He was picked up immediately and taken to the Fort Bragg hospital where he died two hours later.

Traffic Officer Joe Randolph was at the scene of the tragedy almost immediately and after putting Johnson on the truck, took Giacomini into custody for questioning. According to Giacomini's story, Johnson was walking in the middle of the road. At first he though Johnson was only fooling and would get out of the way. Giacomini made an effort to miss Johnson, but hit him with the left front fender, and the car passed over Johnson's body Giacomini stopped his car and, in attempting to ack up, went into the ditch on the left side of the road.

Charles Galletti of Elk was riding with Giacomini, and the men were on business in Fort Bragg. Giacomini was taken before Dr. Bowman and given a test for drunken driving. He had been drinking, but, according to the doctor's statement, had not had enough to impair his driving. Giacomini admitted having two or three drinks and his statement was verified by Galetti.

Cliff Colberg of Fort Bragg passed Johnson on the turn just before the accident and in his statement said Johnson was walking north on the right side of the road.

Giacomini was not held after Randolph got in touch with District Attorney Gibson.

Independent Stores Making Their Plans For Winter Events

At a recent meeting of the members of the Home-Owned Business association, plans for fall and winter activities were discussed. Closer co-operations of local citizens and merchants was urged and an event of city-wide interest, which will come as a surprise during the first part of next year, was outlined.

All home-owned businesses are invited to enroll in this association. Dues are nominal and membership entitles each store to display the popular Liberty bell as a symbol of community patriotism and service.

A complete, revised directory of the Ukiah Home-Owned Business association appears each week in the Dispatch-Democrat. This service is extended gratis to bring about a closer contact between merchants and their patrons.

Loyalty, as well as charity, begins at home. The prosperity of Ukiah's citizens is directly linked with the prosperity of Ukiah's merchants, who earn and re-invest their money here.

Bell is an employe of the Union Lumber company at Fort Bragg, according to information here. He and his wife were married at Martinez October 18, 1920; they have one child, a daughter of 13.

Johnson and Mrs. Bell were married in Ukiah last month.

Redgate Convicted On Two Counts For Confidence Game

Charles Redgate, erstwhile bunco man, was found guilty in his trial by jury in Superior court Wednesday, the jury returning verdicts of guilty of petty theft in counts one and two and not guilty as to count three.

It was Redgate, who with Tony Valli, as his come-on, gypped several Ukiah women of as many different sums of money by proposing to buy or rent their property and finding need of certain cash necessary for alterations, surveys, etc.

Mrs. Amelia Tomlinson was the last of their string of victims. Mrs. Tomlinson owns a small ranch property north of town which she was offering for sale. She was approached by Redgate, who posed as the agent for Valli, who was looking for just such a place, for which he was ready to pay spot cash. After negotiations had proceeded to a certain point it was suggested that Mrs. Tomlinson put up half of the amount necessary to have the property surveyed, the half being $17, which was paid by the lady.

Followed a week of silence on the part of the supposed purchaser and his agent, and Mrs. Tomlinson took the matter up with the sheriff. Valli and Redmond were taken into custody later at Hopland by Sheriff Williams and Deputies Wayne Crawford and Earl Bishop.

At the preliminary hearing before Justice Busch, Valli convinced authorities that he had no criminal intent in the matter and was more or less one of Redgate's victims.

Redgate was represented at the trial by Attorney Wayne P. Burke, who petitioned the court for probation for his client. The hearing is set for November 13.

It developed at the trial that Redgate is a family man, having a wife and eight children living in Sacramento. In his operations at Ukiah Redgate picked up about $100. He is also accused of selling property belonging to the late Mrs. E. J. Moore of Hopland, at whose home he made his headquarters before transferring his activities to Ukiah. The property was sold to a local second hand dealer.

The jury selected to try Redgate was composed of L. J. Fashauer, A. E. Bishop, Mrs. Chryssa Moulton, L. A. Spengler, R. W. Frost, Henry Whipple, Mrs. Verneda Gray, W. H. Dixon, Mrs. Ruby Dunlap, H. R. Michaels, Mrs. Alma Arthur, Ella Dawe.

Choice Looms For Federal Building

J. G Rolfe, federal building inspector, was in Ukiah Tuesday and Wednesday making final investigations and interviewing property owners in regard to the building the government will erect here.

The matter of choice is now narrowed down to two locations, the Tracy lot at the foot of Standley street, one block east of the court house, and the Stout lot at Oak and Standley, one block west of the court house.

It is expected that announcement of selection of the site will be made within the next three weeks.

Jury Verdict Sets Record In Wallace Burglary Action

Edward Wallace, coast laborer arrested August 15 and charged with burglarizing the J. A. Newgard store at Albion, faced Superior court last Tuesday morning and is now awaiting the report of the probation officer, which will be made on December 2. Wallace's attorney, H. L. Spurr, petitioned the court for probation after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty of second degree burglary, deliberating less than half an hour.

Walace was taken into custody in August by Deputy Sheriffs Earl Bishop and Wayne Crawford, who went to the coast to investigate the burglary.

When arrested Wallace was found in a drunken stupor in his cabin about a mile from the scene of the robbery. His left hand was badly lacerated as if cut by jagged glass. He has denied knowledge of the theft and offered his own explanation of the injured hand.

Entrance to the establishment was effected by breaking glass from the front door, and several hundred dollars worth of miscellaneous merchandise and some liquor was stolen, a large part of which was found hidden about 200 yards from the store.

Groceries, tobacco, different articles of clothing and a sack of liquor were among the goods stolen, in all several sacksful, indicating that the burglar made several trips to complete the job.

The jury which heard the evidence was composed of the following: R. W. Frost, H. P. Hull, G. C. Lewis, Mrs. Ella Dawe, Mrs. Ruby Dunlap, Mrs. Alma Arthur, G. F. Gallagher, Mrs. Barbara Bonnifield, Mrs. Margaret Hutton, L. J. Fashauer, Hazel Noble and W. H. Dixon.

Central Mendocino District Prepared For United Effort

Monday morning the annual Red Cross Roll Call will be set in motion in the Central Mendocino County district, with every locality in the district fully organized and under competent leadership, ready to put the drive over in the shortest possible time. District Chairman Walter Sandelin stated to the Dispatch-Democrat yesterday that all subdivisions were better equipt and more fully manned by volunteer workers than in any year since he has been in charge of the work. He mentions the following leaders in the several localities:

Allan Sacry, Willits; Mrs. Lois Hart, Covelo; P. B. Westerman, Potter Valley; Mrs. C. L. Smith and Miss Jones, Redwood Valley; Mrs. J. T. Farrer and Miss Blanche Brown, Boonville; Mrs. Mark Eglin, Calpella; Cyril Vassar, and M. Zanoline, Hopland; Mrs. Bernice Faas and Mrs. Joe Figone, Talmage.

In Ukiah the drive will enlist the services of all civic clubs, women's organizations, veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries, the Grange, religious organizations, etc. The city has been redistricted to better facilitate the work, which once started will be carried to conclusion without letup.

Improved economic conditions here will be reflected in this year's drive, enabling those engaged in their work to make far better showing than in recent seasons. There is evidence of rivalry between localities, as to which can show the largest number of subscriptions in ratio to population. This, of course, will also add materially to the final reckoning.

During the year which closed June 30, 1935, the National Red Cross expended in round numbers a total of $2,891,600 in the various services. Of this amount $633,400 was for disaster relief and $481,200 went for service to ex-service men and to men now in the regular army and navy; $166,800 were spent for nursing and $176,300 for first aid and life saving.

The 3,713 chapters of the Red Cross expended in excess of $7,000,000 during the year, in addition to the national organization expenditures.

It is the hope of the Central Mendocino County district to be able to close its drive on the eve of Thanksgiving, with a full quota accounted for.

Fast Bay City Team Comes Here Sunday

San Francisco Boy's Athletic club eleven will come to Ukiah next Sunday for a game with the town team, which is a promise that local fans can see some fine play at the municipal lot. The visitors are champions of the Independent Football league of the city.

Coach Hooper's squad has steadily improved, as is attested by the fact that they held the Fort Bragg team to a scoreless (nothing to nothing) game at the coast town November 3, whereas Fort Bragg beat Ukiah in the preceding game, 13 to 0.

Indications are the entire squad will be in tip-top condition for play next Sunday. Admission prices remain the same—25c, with youngsters up to high school freshman age admitted free. The game starts at 2:30 without delay.

ONE MILLION ACRES TO MAJOR FRUITS

Vineyard Census Has Wealth of Interesting Facts About State's Leading Crop

GRAPES HEAD LIST

Half Million Acres Devoted to Vineyards; Oranges First in Fruit Incomes

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

Ranked on a basis of bearing acreages, California boast four major fruit crops with plantings of more than 100,000 acres each, according to a census of groves and vineyards just completed by the federal-state crop reporting service.

Grapes top the list in the count of acres, with a total of 499,186 acres devoted to vineyards, divided as follows: Raisin varieties, 230,330 acres; wine grapes, 181,578 acres, and table varieties, 87,278 acres. The grape plantings have dropped off 136,278 acres, however, during the past seven years, with the heaviest decline in raisin varieties.

Second in acreage, but first in income, orange groves total 211,346 acres, according to the federal-state report, with 114,722 acres devoted to Valencias and 96,624 acres in Navels and other varieties. The area in production has increased nearly 27,000 acres during the seventeen-year period studied.

The California prune is third in line, with 166,104 acres (approximately the same acreage reported in 1927), and peaches are fourth with 103,295 acres, about evenly divided between clingstones and freestones. Total peach plantings fell off about 20,000 acres in the seven years.

Indicative of the great diversification in the California fruit industry, the acreage census also recorded fifteen other fruit crops, some with heavy acreages and others in the first stages of development.

In the citrus industry, the bearing acreage of grapfruit has doubled during seven years and now totals 12,648 acres, while lemons, with little change in acreage, account for 41,451 acres.

Leading deciduous fruits, other than peaches, include apples, 41,193 acres; apricots, 78,795 acres; cherries, 14,551 acres; pears, 68,969 acres; plums, 31,358 acres. In the smaller acreage group, the federal-state report gave nectarines 2,096 acres, (first commercial plantings were made only six years ago); persimmons, 1,929 acres; quinces, 231 acres.

In the listing of "specialty fruits," avocados, a new industry, jumped from less than 700 acres in 1927 to 7,507 acres in earing at the start of 1935, with 5,876 additional acres as yet nonproducing. Other specialties included olives, 24,524 acres; figs, 41,526 acres; dates 1,244 acres, and pomegranates, 754 acres.

Among nuts, walnuts have forged far to the front in the California industry, with 117,304 acres in production, a gain of 36,186 acres.

Almonds, making a small acreage increase, now total 71,804 acres, as compared to 66,104 in 1927.

Other nuts include 274 acres of chestnuts, 167 acres of pecans and 11 acres of filberts.

Meeting the twin problems of depression and an expanding industry, the California Fruit Growers Exchange reports that exchange exports of oranges this season were two and three-fourth times greater than the past 5 year average, with sales on the domestic market 15% greater than in any preceding year.

An investment of $1,500,000, in advertising was a dominant factor in moving an all-time record crop, according to the citrus cooperative.

Night classes in banking, which are being held in the high school auditorium, are now in their fifth week and have had an average attendance of over 25, in spite of counter attractions of this particular season. Willits, Upper Lake, Kelseyville and Lakeport continue to contribute their share of interested students.

Under the instruction of Fred L. Creen of the Savings Bank, the following subjects have been discussed: Origin of the dollar, organization procedure of national and state banks, bank personnel, different types of bank accounts, legal tender, duties of receiving teller, mutilated money, counterfeit money, batch system of accounting, and other problems of banking practices.

Some of the subjects to be analyzed during the next few weeks are, proper method of drawing checks, forged checks, attachment of accounts, unit system of bank operation, clearing house operations, transit items, Federal Reserve collection system, routing of items, cash letters and exchange.

These courses are open to all and the benefits of the lectures may be had without cost. If the student wishes to augment the dscussions by a course of study, he may have the course prepared by the American Institute of Banking at a cost of $2.75. Willits News

WILLITS, Nov. 13—It started raining here yesterday which followed several weeks of cool weather with freezing every night. The weather has moderated and the rain ought to take some of the frost out of the ground so that grass can grow.

Elmer Carner Dead

Elmer Hiram Carner died at his home early Sunday morning following a long illness. He had been in poor health for several years and death was due to general breakdown. He was born in Potter valley, April 21, 1872, and moved to Sutter county with his parents while still a baby. He grew to manhood in that county and came to Willits in 1900. He clerked in local stores for 10 years but had to leave this occupation on account of his health.

About 25 years ago he started working in the Willits postoffice and lacked but a few days of having served Uncle Sam 25 years and would have been entitled to a pension. His familiar face appeared at the general delivery window for so many years that he was almost considered one of the fixtures and his kindly and accomodating services endeared him to all patrons of the postoffice.

During the Spanish-American war he enlisted and was assigned to the artillery branch. It was while in training at Vancouver barracks he was thrown from a gun carriage and one of the wheels ran over his arm and broke it at the elbow. He never fully recovered from this injury.

Elmer Carner and Mabel Taylor were married November 11, 1906, and four children were born to this union, as follows: Irvine Carner of Berkeley; Mrs. Maxine Christie, Vernon and Porter Carner all of Willits. There is one grandchild.

He leaves two brothers and a sister: Charles Carner of Potter valley; Mrs. Loretta Stout of Vallejo, and M. E. Carner of Willits.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. H. J. Catterall officiating at the church and Little Lake Lodge, I. O. O. F., at the grave.

District Meeting

The Knights of Pythias held a district meeting here last Thursday night and there were nearly 100 members in attendance. The guest of honor was Grand Chancellor Henry Wildgrube of Fresno, who delivered a splendid lecture during the course of the evening.

Ukiah sent the largest delegation but Santa Rosa, Healdsburg, Fort Bragg and Ferndale were also well-represented. The second rank was conferred on Judge W. F. Whitney by a mixed team that succeeded in giving Bill the whole works.

Following the district meeting the assemblage adjourned to Rose's Cafe where a turkey banquet, with all of the trimmings, was indulged in. It was one of the best banquets given here and everybody was filled to capacity.

The next district meeting will be held at Fort Bragg on Monday night, December 2, and the Ukiah and Willits members will go over to the coast city on a special train.

Christmas Carnival

A Christmas carnival will be held at the Willits Improvement Club hall on December 12, 13 and 14. Among the features will be a community Christmas tree with gifts for all children; big turkey dinner on the evening of the thirteenth at a nominal charge, which will be followed by a card party. The carnival will end December 14, with a grand ball, the music for which will be furnished by Kellogg's Vagabonds.

Turned Loose

Last week we mentioned that two of our police officers and others had been called to Sacramento to appear before the federal grand jury in a case in which a local woman was accused of selling beer to Indians. Word was received here a few days ago that the federal grand jury did not think there was enough evidence to warrant an indictment, and the case was dismissed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life." These words from II Corinthians comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, November 17, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Mortals and Immortals." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. . . . For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality" (I Cor. 15: 50, 53).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "We cannot fathom the nature and quality of Gods' creation by diving into the shallows of mortal belief. We must reverse our feeble flutterings—our efforts to find life and truth in matter—and rise above the testimony of the material senses, above the mortal to the immortal idea of God . These clearer, higher views inspire the God-like man to reach the absolute center and circumference of his being."(p.262)

P.G. and E. REDUCES ELECTRIC RATES

New low rates will apply on electricity used in the home and for commercial lighting throughout P. G. & E. system. Over 690,000 customers will benefit by this saving of nearly $4,000,000 a year, beginning with January bills.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY

Reduced electric rates mean just one thing—cheaper electricity. To each individual home in the P. G. and E. system and to all commercial lighting customers that means more comforts and conveniences from electricity at no additional cost.

APPLIES TO JANUARY BILLS

The reduced electric rates take effect automatically and apply on January bills to all domestic users and to all commercial lighting customers.

WHY this reduced electric rate?

This substantial saving to our customers of nearly $4,000,000 has been long under consideration and we have been planning carefully for it. We feel now we can justify it on the following four points of good business. These four points are:

1. Increased demand for electricity stimulated in part by the special inducement rate of the past year and in part by better business conditions.

2. Lowered financing costs brought about by reducing interest charges of a large part of the company's bonded debt with 4 per cent bonds.

3. Reduced management and operating costs which were lowered through the consolidation of several properties.

4. By economies put in effect in every department.

Take advantage of the new low electric rate. Do more electrically, now that all types of electric equipment for the home will cost less to use.

Electric Rates Cut again and again and AGAIN!

Electric rates have dropped steadily and consistently in the P. G. and E. system.

In 1928 . . . rates were reduced by $2,418,900 yearly.

Again in 1930 . . . rates dropped by $3,020,000 yearly.

Again in 1935 . . . an inducement rate is saving customers $1,600,000 in one year.

NOW AGAIN in 1935-36 reduced rates save $3,924,000 yearly. In only eight years accumulated rate reductions have amounted to $54,621,000.

Electricity IS cheaper in California, with P. G. & E. electric rates among the lowest in the country

Mendo-Lake P.-T. A. At Redwood Valley

An all-day meeting of the Mendo-Lake P.-T. A. council was held at Redwood Valley last Wednesday, in the grammar school auditorium, with Mrs. D. Macmillan, president, presiding. The budgeting of all P.-T. A. money was explained in detail by the president, and Mrs. Nelson of Hopland gave a report for the budget committee.

An interesting report of the district meeting, held in September in Petaluma, was given by Mrs. Macmillan.

Mrs. George W. Davis was appointed publicity chairman.

Ways and means of raising money for council work were discussed, and it was decided to arrange for a moving picture project at the State theater, Ukiah, with nearby units assisting. The Lake county units were to make similar arrangements, or raise money by another method if they preferred. A committee was appointed to work out the details, select the picture, etc., and consists of the following: Mrs. D. Macmillan, chairman, Mrs. George W. Davis, Mrs. E. L. Chelli, Mrs. Wilsey, Mrs. Robert Harmon, Mrs. Ivan Crawford and Mrs. H. Singley.

Mrs. Robert Harmon of Hopland, first vice-president and program chairman gave a report on her work. She exhibited an attractive program, made up for the balance of the year. All officers and chairmen of the council were requested to keep a procedure, or scrap book, and several interesting ones were displayed.

At noon luncheon was served by the members of the Redwood Valley P.-T. A.. The meeting was the second birthday of the council, so a beautifully decorated cake, with its two candles, was made by the hostesses. A birthday penny march also took place.

The afternoon session was taken up mainly with brief reviews of the different departments by Mrs. Macmillan, and discussion of local problems.

The regular fourteenth district meeting to be held at Middletown, Thursday November 21, was mentioned and several were planning on attending.

Mrs. Harmon had arranged a short program. Seven ladies put on an emblem pageant, and Mrs. Branson sang two solos, "Bells of St. Mary's" and "Sleepy Valley," which were greatly enjoyed.

The January meeting of the council will be held in Lakeport, with a panel discussion, and the February meeting in Hopland. One of the entertaining features of this meeting will be 12 tables, representing the 12 birthday months of the year, which will be in charge of 12 different units of the county, each unit to be responsible for a month. The topic to be discussed at this meeting will be, "What a P.-T. A. Can Do to Better Spiritual Education."

Mendocino History Will Be Preserved In City Museum

To preserve that portion of Mendocino county history that is written in relics of the early days, the Ukiah City Library is engaged in the task of collecting and cataloging every conceivable kind of material.

Of special value in such collections are old newspapers, old letters, diaries, and pictures of spots of historical interest, Indian relics, relics of pioneer use, ancient documents, etc.

This is an undertaking which can be indulged in by people from all parts of the county, and even by those who have moved from the confines of Mendocino, yet have souvenirs from the early periods, and no better place for their preservation could be found than in the collection which the library is working to amass. All will be indexed and the donor's name preserved along with thatever chronology they contain.

W. H. Dixon, prominent resident of Fort Bragg was here overnight last Tuesday.

LOOKING at WASHINGTON

By HUGO SIMS,
Dispatch-Democrat Special Washington Correspondent

Senator Borah has declared war on the Republican Old Guard in no uncertain terms, insisting that the party nominate a liberal candidate and outlining a "better deal" to oppose President Roosevelt. The Idaho senator plans to fight in the presidential primaries, in the platform committee and in the convention of his party to prevent the old guard from naming the candidate.

He believes that if the old guard dominates the party, the western Republicans will bolt the ticket, vote Democratic and assure the re-election of the president, who, Mr. Borah believes, will use the power of such a triumph to change the form of government to a federal dictatorship.

Mr. Borah has always remained within the Republican fold regardless of which faction controlled his party. Even when the late Theodore Roosevelt bolted and formed the Progressive party, launching a spirited attack upon monopolies, the Idaho senator stuck with the organization. During the days of Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, he was a rampant critic between elections but helped carry the freight during the campaign. In fact, many attribute Mr. Hoover's success to the senator's work in the west, where he paid particular attention to the farmers' problems.

In his latest blast, the Idahoan insists that the "world has passed by the old guard" which depends on "organization, on machine power, on manipulations," but can draw out "nothing more than some faded epithets and ancient phrases about radical, irregular, unsafe" to answer the problems of millions of citizens who are "being tortured day and night with an economic condition which is far from being over."

Mr. Borah believes that the constitution affords ample powers to deal with our problems but, attacking the old guard, declares, "Those who once were in a position to exercise these powers refused to act." He insists that they formed monopolies to get control of our entire material wealth and to fix the prices which the people should pay. In reference to bureaus and expenditures, he points out that "they created bureaus without precedent." In the end, he insists that the old guard has little to offer "except repentance and no one would accept their professions."

The Borah statement has not received the attention in the east that it deserves. If the senator carries out his intentions, the Republicans must nominate a liberal or, in his words, lose the western Republicans. If the nominee is a liberal, there will be no candidate for the conservatives to support, creating an excellent opportunity for the beginning of a permanent conservative party to oppose an eventual consolidation of the liberal forces. However, all this speculation may be wasted. The chances are that the Idaho senator next year will be backing the Republican cadidate and talking about monopolies regardless of who happens to be leading the Republican charge.

The RFC, which has loaned $5,700,000,000, exclusive of advances and payments to federal agencies, has collected sixty-four per cent of the amount and has made an operating profit of $110,000,000, according to Jesse H. Jones, its chairman. This amount, he says, will be more than sufficient to offset probable losses from uncollectible loans. In addition to the loans disbursed, the agency has approved $1,800,000,000 in other loans.

Mr. Jones takes occasion to express his belief that "the depression is substantially a thing of the past" and points out that industry will have to contribute its full share in the task of solving the unemployment problem. He says that we produce more than we consume and that our foreign markets have become so restricted and reduced as to absorb very little of our surplus either in agricultural or manufactured products. Pointedly, he urges us not to fool ourselves by thinking that we will escape the ultimate cost of letting the government meet the economic problems of the nation asserting that "the more we lean upon the government, the more the government must in turn lean upon us."

Following the corn-hog referendum, political observers concluded that the AAA is probably the best asset of the president from a political standpoint. Equally plain is the fact that the administration proposes to secure such political capital as may be possible from the situation which may be altered by the Supreme court's decision on the processing tax which is due to be delivered some time in December or January.

Regardless of whether the court finds them constitutional or not, the president intends to make his farm program a permanent policy of the government, to be financed by some other method if the processing taxes are ruled out. The threat that the court may go beyond the processing tax issue and lay down the rule that congress has no right to pay a bounty of any sort to the farmers, is not thought to be imminent, although such a declaration would mean the collapse of the farm program.

Admittedly, one of the hardest problems before the Republican board of strategy is to find some offset to the AAA which threatens to capture enough Republican votes in normally Republican states to keep them in the Democratic column next year. A number of leaders, including senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, agree that the party would make a mistake in condemning the AAA or making it an issue, and that unless something "as good or better" is offered to farmers, criticism of the act should be rigidly avoided. In this event, the obvious reply of the Democrats is to claim credit for the improving agricultural conditions and appeal for the continued support of the farmers who have been helped. Particularly was it noticeable that the officals of the AAA quickened their plans for continuing Federal benefits to farmers.

The president is seeking to step up private employment and payrolls to the level of current industrial production in order to increase jobs. It is known that he is conferring with individual leaders of American business in an attempt to find a solution of the unemployment problem. Significantly, the president wonders why employment and payrolls are failing to keep pace with the factory activity. He points out that the level of industrial production is about ninety per cent of that of five years ago but that only eighty-two per cent as many people are employed in production and that these wage earners get only seventy-four per cent as much as they did at that time.

Meanwhile, it is noted that the work relief program is credited with employing approximately one million persons in September but that the figures compiled by the Labor department showed a gain of only 350,000 in factory employment. The president asserts that he has been trying to get reliable employment data for two years but there was an inadequacy of statistics on unemployment.

NOTE:—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurence, commencing with the early morning tides in the left hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occuring on the following morning.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the level of the Coast Survey chart soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depth.

The data is practically the same for Point Arena Light, Navarro River Entrance, Little River Harbor, Mendocino Bay and Fort Bragg Landing. For Westport subtract 5 minutes from the time and for Shelter Cove add 0.8 ft. to high tide.

World's Greatest Relief Project

The annual roll call of the American Red Cross began on Armistice day. Again the greatest organized relief agency in the world seeks funds, with which to affirm, throughout the year, the brotherhood of man in a practical, helpful way.

To our people this organization may seem a thing afar, but to terror-stricken children and suffering human beings, who have seen its work and enjoyed its assistance, the annual Roll Call is an opportunity to express, in a substantial way, not so much the gratitude they feel for past deliverance, as the prayer in their hearts that others, in time of danger and peril, may enjoy the same life-giving help that they enjoyed.

Certainly, if disaster overtook us tomorrow, causing suffering, destroying life and property, and leaving in its wake an injured population of men, women and children, the telegraph wires would carry an appeal for urgent relief. We would expect a prompt and adequate response from America, because the people of our country do not ignore such appeals.

When the inevitable response to the call came the people would thank God for the presence of the Red Cross, organized to appeal for necessary help, trained and equipped to provide such assistance.

Let us hope no call for relief will issue to the nation from Ukiah but let us do our part in keeping up the alert and always ready organization of nurses, doctors and relief workers of the American Red Cross.

The call this month is not from any stricken section, but from the Red Cross itself, asking you to join it and through the payment of $1, $5, or $10 as a membership fee, to participate in all the splendid work that this organization will be called upon to perform.

Old Story of Father Who Traded Child For Auto Tires Revived and Spread Over State's Newspapers; 'Twas Never True

The 9-year-old "pawned baby" hoax, which an enterprising newspaper reporter turned into a national front page splurge, was brought out and aired last week by a number of papers, because the father of the child was again before the bar of justice.

Roy J. Murray, a former Fort Bragg woodsman, was arrested on June 9, 1926, by Healdsburg police on a warrant charging theft of clothing from a Cloverdale store, his arrest following the spread of the story that he had left his son with James Maksente of Healdsburg as security for a pair of tires.

The Dispatch-Democrat, issue of June 18, 1926, had the following to say of the matter:

The baby broke into the news all over the United States about three weeks ago, when the parents, who reside at Fort Bragg, left it in care of Mr. and Mrs. Maksente for a few days, until they could get to Fort Bragg, where the man was going to take a job. An enterprising "feature" writer sent a story to one of the press associations to the effect that the baby had been "pawned" as security for a pair of automobile tires. The novelty of the idea appealed to the city dailies and they spread the story all over the country.

The Murrays state that while the man did buy two tires from Maksente on credit, the baby was not left as security, but for its own welfare, as they did not think it would stand the hard trip to Fort Bragg, and they were to pay the Maksentes a dollar a day to take care of it.

Judge Preston last Tuesday declared the "pawn" baby a ward of the Juvenile court and placed it in the care of its mother and sent both to the county farm for the time being.

Mrs. James Maksente of Healdsburg, who wished the infant left in her care, appeared in court with a lapdog in her arms. The judge took one slant at the dog and asked her if she would rather have the dog or the baby. She did not know, whereupon the judge remarked that he did not think the baby would have much show in competition with the dog and made the order leaving the baby with its mother.

The father, R. J. Murray, is doing time in the Sonoma county jail for theft.

The story broke again last week when Murray was before Judge George J. Steiger of the Superior court of San Francisco, pleading to be returned to Folsom because his wife had transferred her affections to another, meanwhile the Murray youngsters, four in number, sat in court and heard the details read into the records.

Murray, who has a record of 22 months at Leavenworth for a federal offense, had been sent to Folsom on a check charge.

Hors-d'œuvre

ad captandum vulgus.

From the number of caustic editorial expressions in the rural press during the past week, all leveled at William Randolph Hearst and his avowed intention of forsaking California and her system of taxation, it is evident the master journalist does not rate very high with country editors.

Mr. Hearst furnishes a remarkable example of how one can fail while being great. With all the facilities at his command, there seems scarcely a man of national prominence whose influence is felt less. His great chain of metropolitan newspapers are simply Hearst papers, and any dozen high-grade country weeklies in any state can wield an influence more powerful than Hearst and all his dailies.

The man has an ingrowing egotism which will not permit him to rightly judge the works of others, and sufficient is known of his private affairs to nullify his efforts along almost any line.

He stands alone, a monumental example of frustrated ambition; without the talent for leadership or the ability to drive.

Nobody vouches for this one, but it is said that on a recent visit to Mendocino State hospital Sheriff Williams was approached by a patient who said, "They tell me you're the sheriff," and Dick said he was. "Used to be a sheriff myself," the patient confided, "but did you ever try being crazy? Beats being sheriff all to h--l!

Those who take delight in finding fault with present national affairs will get cold comfort from a statement made by A. P. Giannini, head of the Bank of America Corporation, who told Memphis newspaper men last Saturday that he fully approved the New Deal and tacitly urged re-election of President Roosevelt. Enroute to the American Bankers association at New Orleans, Mr. Giannini was quoted in Memphis dispatches as declaring, "I don't believe in kicking out the man who has done the job. Things are on the up and up, and the thing we have been working for—prosperity—is here."

The Literary Digest is engaged in polling the nation for an expression on the New Deal. Digest polls are a prolific source of revenue for the postal department and in this instance there should be sufficient surplus to materially reduce the national deficit, thus relieving the president's overwrought opposition.

Statutes Provide 3-Shell Handicap For Duck Hunters

Duck season opens Saturday, November 16, and closes December 19, with shooting allowed between the hours of 7 and 4 o'clock each day. December 1 to 15 is the open season for wild pigeons, with a limit of 10 daily or 20 a week. Bear season opened November 1 and will close December 31. Two is the limit and no traps are allowed. Trapping season, which opens tomorrow, will close February 28. All persons trapping for profit are required to have a license.

Hunters after migratory birds are limited by statute to a 3-shell load; that is, repeating and automatic shot guns with magazines for more than three shells must have the magazine plugged that no more than three shells can be loaded at one time. Some firms are now offering guns with special 3-shell magazines.

In the list of migratory birds, ducks, doves, pigeons and snipe are so classed.

Salmon spearing is illegal in California except in Stanislaus county.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Edwards, Lawrence Waugh and Mrs. Velma Manney went to San Francisco for the weekend.

18% more oats for 5½¢ AN ACRE

In 65 farm tests over a three-year period, treating seed oats with New Improved CERESAN has produced yield increases averaging more than 18%.

Yet seed oats treatment with this effective new ethyl mercury phosphate dust costs only 5½c an acre, or less!

To give such results, New Improved CERESAN controls both loose and covered smuts. Every oats grower should use it. Iowa State College of Agriculture Extension Bulletin 322 says: "In 1934 this dust practically eliminated smut on 60 different farmers' lots of oats — 400 rows were planted with treated seed — and smut occurred in only 4 out of the 400 to the extent of one smutted plant per row. In the 400 rows planted with seed not treated there were 2,466 smutted plants."

Use New Improved CERESAN! A pound treats 32 bushels of seed. 1-lb., 75c; 5-lbs., $3.00. Ask for free Cereal Pamphlet.

HOW

LONG WILL BOULDER DAM STAND RAVAGE OF TIME?—When Boulder dam was designed the engineers argued back and forth about the material that should be used in its construction. Coolidge dam in Arizona, 250 feet high, had been built of reinforced concrete. Boulder dam is 700 feet high—too big a leap from 250 feet. Besides, reinforced concrete contains steel, and no one knows how durable steed embedded in concrete actually is.

This raises the question of the life of Boulder dam. How long will the structure last? Many thousand years. An earthquake, some cataclysm is more likely to shake it down than the tooth of time is likely to gnaw it away.

Perhaps, says a writer in the New York Times, this civilization will have disappeared when the dam at last crumbles, as other civilizations have disappeared in the past. And then after more thousands of years, when savages will have become scientists and archeologists will dig in Nevada, volumes will be written on the greatest feat in dam engineering that the world ever saw.

How Rusted Screw May Be Loosened by Use of Heat

When replacing old hinges, locks and other building hardware which have long been in use, it is sometimes found that the screws holding such parts have rusted and that they cannot be removed with screw driver.

If too much pressure is applied the screw head may break, causing even greater difficulty.

In some cases it is possible to loosen rusty screws set in wood by applying heat to them. This is done by holding the point of an electric soldering iron to the screw head until the latter is very hot. Then the screw is turned out with a series of short, jerky twists.

The same kink can be applied to machine screws set into metal, by heating with a blow torch.

How Sleep Comes

How sleep comes is still a mystery to scientists. A great many theories have been advanced to explain the riddle, but none has been acceptable. One theory explains that sleep comes somewhat in the manner of pulling all the plugs out of a switchboard to stop all conversations. The conduction pathways in the nervous system are broken by the refraction of small contact points between the neurones, which are the conducting units that form the nervous system. Activity, according to still another theory, produces a fatigue poison which accumulates in the blood and "dopes" the brain, thus bringing sleep.—Montreal Herald.

How to Refinish Hardwood Floors

If the floors are in the least discolored or spotted, it will be necessary to use a power sander since it is practically impossible to sand them sufficiently by hand. After the floors are sanded down to the plain wood, apply a commercially prepared paste filler, and wipe them off with a cloth. If a wax finish is desired, apply two coats of shellac, sandpapering with double O sandpaper after each coat, and add a coat of wax and of polish. If a varnish finish is desired, after the paste filler has been applied, add one coat of shellac, sandpaper it, and then two coats of varnish.

How Rontgen Discovered X-Rays

In 1895, while experimenting, Doctor Rontgen got strange shadows of solid objects and by making his tube lightproof a greenish fluorescent light could be thrown upon a screen several feet away. These rays passed through the soft parts of the body so that the bones of the hand, for example, were boldly reflected upon a photographic plate. Rontgen modestly named the new rays X-rays, but they were afterwards named Rontgen rays, and the science is now known as rontgenology. He received the Noble prize in 1901 and world-wide fame.

How to Apply Enamel

In painting with enamel, take up an ample, but not excessive, amount on the brush, and flow it with broad, sweeping strokes. Go over the coating again, if necessary, but do not brush it back and forth as you would with paint. The first two coats may be flat paint—that is, nonglossy. For very particular work each coat should be brushed lightly with fine sandpaper or pumice and water.

How to Sweep Up Soot

Here is a simple little rule that will save you many a bad moment when soot falls on your best rug. Don't try to sweep it up at once. If you do, you will have a smudge that you won't get off goodness known when. Instead, cover the spot thickly with dry salt. Let stand. Then sweep and rejoice at how clean and bright the rug will look.

How to Broad Jump

In the running broad jump get a good start, increasing your speed until you hit the take-off board. Then spring and land as far as possible in a pit of soft dirt to break the jump.

How Maundy Thursday Got Name

Maundy Thursday is a contraction of the Latin dies mandati— the day of Christ's great mandate. "A new commandment give I unto you, that ye love one another."

Grand Chancellor At District Meet Knights Pythias

Willits lodge, Knights of Pythias, provided entertainment for upward of 60 Knights, members of the home lodge and visitors from Ukiah and Fort Bragg lodges, with special guests from numerous cities of this section of the state, when the district meeting convened in that city Thursday evening of last week.

Preceding the district meeting, the Willits lodge conferred the Esquire rank on Bill Whitney. In this they were assisted by Attorney H. L. Preston, Attorney Henry Spurr and District Deputy J. B. Dofflemeyer of Ukiah, George White of Santa Rosa, Senator Harry Perry of Ferndale, and Grand Chancellor Henry J. Wildgrube of Fresno.

At the district meeting, presided over by Deputy Dofflemeyer, several non-members from Willits, Ukiah and Hopland attended by special invitation and were entertained by talks from Attorney Preston and Attorney Spurr of Ukiah, Bert Fleming of Santa Rosa, Senator Perry and Mr. Hansen of Ferndale, M. B. Owers of Healdsburg, J. F. Kennedy and Paul Racine of Fort Bragg. Following these talks came the address of Chancellor Wildgrube. All Pythian lodges in the district reported healthy and satisfactory growth.

At the close of the meeting members and visitors were served a turkey banquet at the Rose Cafe, where covers were laid for 60.

The committee on arrangements was headed by Fred Loring.
